

Nursery Moral Stories

Nursery Moral Stories :

In this page, there are thousands of nursery rhymes. Here the same nursery rhymes are retold in the form of stories. These stories have been created with the children at heart. They will enjoy these stories with their at most interest. There are various versions of the nursery rhymes. But we have adopted our own so that the children will be interested in them. Jack and Jill, Incey Wincey Spider, I am a Little Teapot., Humpty Dumpty, Hickory Dickory Dock, Diddle Diddle Dumpling and Cobbler Cobbler are few of the famous nursery rhymes which have been retold in the form of moral stories for the sake of children. In addition, there are stories many unknown rhymes which are rarely used by the schools and parents. We have taken utmost care in the conversion of rhymes into stories.

We have not changed the core points in the rhymes. We have only made an attempt to retell the same rhymes in the story-forms. Since we do not have the authority to change the nature of the rhymes, we did nothing in that area. Our versions have wide welcome among the teachers, schools, parents and children. The interesting-level of the rhymes are maintained in the stories.

Many schools around the world have started using these stories to rekindle and increase the interest level of their students. The parents also have started using these stories to their wards. We are flooded with many requests to take printout of these stories so that they can be used when they are needed.

You are welcome to share your version of the story-format of any nursery rhyme. We are obliged to add your version by acknowledging your contributions. Of course we could not pay you for your contribution. We could extent only our heart-felt THANK YOU NOTE to you for your valuable contribution. In addition, there is a big job-satisfaction that your work will be used by thousands of children and those who are working with children. What else you need! Since internet has WIDE-REACH level, your contribution will reach children living all over the entire world. This website attracts more than 2 million visitors around the world in a month. More than 4 millions pages of this site are viewed by our visitors in a month. These credentials are enough to support the reach of your contributions. What else hold you back? Come on....let us have your entries and let them get published in this site.